

Working Forests for Birds, Climate Change, and Your Community

Free workshop made possible by funding from the Lookout Foundation

Saturday, September 30, 2017—Hanson, MA

8:30am-11am: Breakfast & Speaking Program; 11:30-1pm: Walking Tour

What are working forests? How do communities benefit from forests? What about bird habitat? Timber? Development? Climate change resilience?

Learn all these answers—and more at this free workshop. Then, explore the forest where there's a Foresters for the Birds plan scheduled to take place. Topics include:

- Climate change impacts and how to improve resilience: Stefanie Covino
- Mass Audubon's latest State of the Birds report: Jeff Ritterson
- Increasing Forest Resiliency for an Uncertain Future: Paul Catanzaro
- Southeast MA's first Foresters for the Birds plan in Hanson: Phil Clemons, Phil Benjamin and Tom Farrell

Light breakfast served. Space is limited, register online or by email:
massaudubon.org/shapingthefuture or scovino@massaudubon.org